Each year, the Garden State boasts some of the best events in the country. From family-friendly functions to unparalleled food festivals, New Jersey is once again hosting many of the delightful yearly happenings we've come to love in 2018, along with some brand new spectacles the tri-state area has yet to see. Given the overwhelming amount of worthwhile New Jersey events, we decided to focus on our favorite activities for each month.

QuickChek New Jersey Festival of Ballooning

When: July 27 – 29 — Solberg Airport

Details: The annual QuickChek New Jersey Festival of Ballooning is once again taking over Readington Township's Solberg Airport for its 36th event. The New Jersey Festival of Ballooning is the largest summertime hot air balloon and music festival on the continent. The event features three entire days of food, family activities, local and nationally recognized vendors, tons of games and, of course, hot air balloons. The event has multiple mass ascensions featuring some of the most innovative and ornate hot air balloons from around the world. If you'd like to take a trip in one over the summer, make sure you plan ahead, before spots are filled! (This event sells out quickly.)
